

CITY OF INGLEWOOD

Office of the Mayor

James T. Butts, Jr.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

March 11, 2024

Contact: Steve Brener (818) 462-5598

The President's Budget for Fiscal Year 2025 Proposes $200 Million Down Payment on $1 Billion of Funding for ITC

Following his State of the Union address, President Biden released his budget for Fiscal Year 2025, and it includes the first installment on a planned $1 billion investment of federal funds for the Inglewood Transit Connector (ITC) Project. The Budget calls for \$200 million for the ITC from the Federal Transit Administration.

“The Biden/Harris Administration has demonstrated their commitment to the ITC Project and their faith in the City of Inglewood and its partners to deliver this transformative investment for our community and region,” said Inglewood Mayor James T. Butts, Jr. “We are grateful for the support, and we will use it to further energize our work.”

The Budget proposal comes on the heels of the Biden Administration's approval in December 2023 for the project to enter the Engineering Phase of development with a pledge of $1.009 billion in federal funds once the project completes this phase and enters into a multi-year funding agreement with the federal government. The Fiscal Year 2025 funding suggested in this Budget will be the first installment of those funds; its inclusion in the spending plan indicates the Biden Administration anticipates the multi-year agreement will be completed during the fiscal year.

“Our project team is on track to finalize our funding agreement with the federal government. We are working with our partners to secure the remainder of the needed funds to match this significant federal support for the ITC and expect to have the commitments we need in hand soon,” concluded Mayor Butts.

###

The ITC Project is a 1.6 mile fully elevated, electrically powered, automated transit system with three new stations. The ITC Project will provide a direct and convenient connection from the Metro K Line Downtown Inglewood station to the heart of Inglewood's housing, commercial, sports, and entertainment center. For more project information, please visit www.envisioninglewood.org.